

Business & Economics in Europe

The European Union (EU) is a major global trading power. With the introduction of the Euro and EU enlargement, key steps towards integration were taken to increase European prosperity and competitiveness. However, with the fragile economic recovery in the Euro-zone and the implications of Brexit, what is the future of the European economic experiment?

Maastricht gained international fame as the birthplace of the Euro, and is located between the major economic centres of Brussels, London, Frankfurt and Amsterdam, making it the ideal place for educating and training the global business leaders and economists of tomorrow.

World-class business & economics school

You will be directly enrolled at Maastricht University (UM) and take classes at the School of Business and Economics, which is accredited by the European EQUIS, the American AACSB and the prestigious AMBA, a standard that fewer than 1% of business schools have achieved. You can also choose courses from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences and the Center for European Studies (CES).

International summer internships

Take your global experience to the next level with an international internship. CES partner with The Intern Group to provide you with the opportunity to arrange a business internship before or after studying abroad at UM.

Introduction

The two-week introduction offers a variety of academic and social activities. It includes CES services (such as airport pick up and local SIM cards), the Berlin Study Trip, a tour of Maastricht and the surrounding area, Maastricht University orientation, a Problem-Based Learning workshop, 'Dealing with the Dutch' lecture and integration into Dutch student life.

Berlin Study Trip

Your adventure begins with a four-day trip to Berlin which provides a vivid European context for your programme.

Cultural Weekends

If it Ain't Dutch it Ain't Much

Explore political and cultural highlights in The Hague; be immersed in Dutch culture at the open air museum Zaanse Schans and bond with the group over the creation of your very own Delft blue tile.

A Taste of Paris

Indulge in the city of light and its cuisine, experience the rich architectural and artistic beauty, and taste of one of the plethora of cultures which exist across Europe.
